March 17 Is Deadline To Apply For SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loans

ATLANTA - The U.S. Small Business Administration is reminding businesses in West Virginia that Economic Injury Disaster Loans are still available to small businesses economically impacted by the severe storms, tornadoes, flooding, mudslides and landslides that occurred from June 3 through June 7, 2008.

“Businesses that suffered economic losses as a result of the disaster and want to apply for low-interest loans from the SBA are urged to do so before the March 17 deadline,” said Frank Skaggs, Director of SBA Field Operations Center East.

Small businesses, and most private, non-profit organizations of all sizes in the following counties are eligible to apply: Barbour, Berkeley, Braxton, Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Fayette, Gilmer, Grant, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Kanawha, Lewis, Marion, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia, Nicholas, Pleasants, Preston, Putnam, Randolph, Ritchie, Roane, Taylor, Tucker, Tyler, Upshur, Wetzel, Wirt and Wood in the State of West Virginia; Washington County in the State of Maryland; Meigs, Monroe and Washington in the State of Ohio; Greene County in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and Clarke, Frederick and Loudoun in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Loans are available up to $2.0 million for small businesses that suffered substantial economic injury from the disaster. These working capital loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred. These loans are not intended to replace lost sales or profits.

The interest rate on these loans is 4 percent, with a maximum term of 30 years. The SBA determines the amount of economic injury and the terms of each loan based on the financial circumstances of each borrower.
